

Bar Refaeli's Gold Facial Costs Less Than You Think: All the Details

CELEBRITY BEAUTY

APR. 8, 2014 AT 4:25PM BY SHARON TANENBAUM

Credit: Courtesy of Bar Refaeli; Vittorio Zunino Celotto/Getty (inset)

Bar Refaeli's crazy Instagram picture in which she gets a liquid gold facial inspired three very deep thoughts:

- 1) WTH is going on here?
- 2) Where can I do that?
- 3) It probably costs a fortune.

Although the supermodel didn't identify the spa in her caption from April 1, Us Weekly can now answer all three questions. Us has learned that Refaeli's golden treatment is the Caviar and Carat Facial created by aesthetician Bella Schneider -- and isn't as expensive as the name would suggest.

The luxe facial costs just $185 at Schneider's LaBelle Day Spas & Salons in California, and is otherwise offered at more than 600 spas around the world. The facial relies on caviar ampule, honey, sea buckthorn, and gold to help combat the signs of aging and to brighten the skin.

If you want to go golden at home, try BSB Culmine Caviar & Carat Exfoliating Grommage ($45, labelledayspas.com). The gentle scrub sloughs off dead skin cells and helps increase circulation thanks to vitamin A and amino acids.

